About
The plastic gameboard was designed to be beer-proof. It was also constructed to be used along with the NEXUS bases to keep the game components in place in case of rowdy drunken activity. It is important to keep the raised area of the squares 44mm x 44mm or smaller and only raise them about 1mm, otherwise the NEXUS bases will not sit over them properly. The total board size is also important if you want a set of the Aerie Command Panels to fit around it.
